

Public School Teachers: Ready to teach in Catholic schools?

Retire with your KPERS benefits
AND
teach in Catholic schools!

Example Scenario*

Annie is 55-years-old and retires after 30 years teaching in the Kansas public schools. She receives her full KPERS pension. A few months into retirement, she realizes she is not ready to leave the field of education, so she decides to work at a Catholic school in Kansas.

Between her KPERS pension and Catholic school salary, Annie's annual income is now $4,800 MORE than it was when she was working in the public school!

Learn more at kpers.org!

*The above scenario is fictitious and based on: average teacher salaries across school districts in the KC metro area and average teacher salaries in the Archdiocese of Kansas City in Kansas Catholic schools; years of teacher experience, and current KPERS benefits.